Mr Peabody's Donation to the Southwest—Full Details of his Plan

Following is the letter of George Peabody, detailing the plan of his last great donations

GENTLEMEN:—I beg to address you on a subject which occupied my mind long before I left England, and in regard to which one, at least, of you—Hon Mr Winthrop—the honored and valued friend to whom I am so much indebted for cordial sympathy, careful consideration and wise counsel in this matter, will remember that I consulted him immediately upon my arrival in May last I refer to the educational needs of those portions of our beloved and common country which have suffered from the destructive ravages and not less disastrous consequences of civil war With my advancing years my attachment to my native land has but become devoted. My hope and faith in its successful and glorious future have grown brighter and stronger, and now, looking forward beyond my stay on earth, as may be permitted to one who has passed the limit of three score and ten years, I see my country united and prosperous, emerging from the clouds which still surround her taking a higher rank among the nations and becoming richer and more powerful than ever before But to make its prosperity more than superficial, her moral and mental development should keep pace with her material growth, and in those portions of our nation to which I have referred the urgent and pressing physical needs of an almost impoverished people must for some years preclude them from making, by unaided effort, such advances in education, and such progress in the diffusion of knowledge among all classes that every lover of his country must earnestly desire. I feel most deeply, therefore, that it is the duty and privilege of the more favored classes to assist those who are less fortunate, and with the wish to discharge, so far as I may be able, my own responsibility in this matter, as well as to gratify my desire to aid those to whom I am bound by so many ties of attachment and regard, I give to you gentlemen, most of whom have been my personal and special friends, the sum of one million of dollars, to be by your successors held in trust, and the income thereof used and applied in your direction for the promotion and encouragement of intellectual, moral or industrial education among the young of the more destitute portions of the Southwestern States of our Union, my purpose being that the benefits intended shall be distributed among the entire population without other distinction than their needs and the opportunities of usefulness to them. Beside the income thus devised, I give you permission to use from the principal sum, within the next two years, an amount not exceeding 40 per cent

In addition to this gift I place in your hands bonds of the State of Mississippi, issued to the Planters' Bank, and commonly known as Planters' Bank bonds, amounting with interest to about $1,100,000, the amount realized by you from which is to be added to and used for the purposes of this trust. These bonds were originally issued in payment for stock in that bank held by the State, and amounting in all to nearly $2,000,000. For many years the State received large dividends from the bank over and above the interest on those bonds. The State paid the interest without interruption till 1840, since which no interest has been paid except a payment of $100,000, which was found in the treasury applicable to the payment of the coupons, and paid by a mandamus of the Supreme Court The validity of these bonds has never been questioned, and they must not be confounded with another issue of bonds made by the State to the Union Bank, the recognition of which has been a subject of controversy with a portion of the population of Mississippi. Various of the Legislatures, viz, of February 28, 1842, February 23, 1844, February 10, 1846, February 28, 1846, March 4, 1848, and the highest judicial tribunal of the State, have confirmed their validity, and I have no doubt that at an early day such legislation will be had as to make these bonds available in increasing the usefulness of the present trust, Mississippi, though now depressed, is rich in agricultural resources, and cannot long disregard the moral obligations resting upon her to make provision for her payment. In confirmation of what I have said in regard to the legislative and judicial action concerning the State bonds issued to the Planters' Bank, I herewith place in your hands the document marked A. The details and organizations of the trust I leave to you, only requesting that Mr Winthrop may be Chairman, and Governor Fish and Bishop McIlvaine the Vice Chairmen of your body. And I give to you power to make all necessary by-laws and regulations, to obtain an act of incorporation, if any shall be found expedient, to provide for the expenses of the trustees and of all agents appointed by them, and generally to do all such acts as may be necessary for carrying out the provisions of this trust. All vacancies occurring in your number by death, resignation or otherwise, shall be filled by your election as soon as conveniently may be, and having in view an equality of representation as far as regards the Northern and Southern States I furthermore give to you the power, in case two-thirds of the trustees shall at any time after the lapse of 30 years deem it expedient to close this trust, and of the funds which at this time shall be in the hands of your successors, to distribute not less than two-thirds for such educational purposes as they may determine in the States for whose benefit the income is now appointed to be used, the remainder may be distributed by the Trustees for educational or literary purposes wherever they may deem it expedient. In making this gift, I am aware that the fund derived from it can but aid the States which I wish to benefit in their own exertions to diffuse the blessings of education and morality, but if the endowment shall encourage those now anxious for the light of knowledge, and stimulate to new efforts the many good and noble men who cherish the highest purpose of placing our great country foremost, not only in power, but in the intelligence and the virtue of her citizens, it will have accomplished all that I can hope. With reverend recognition of the need of the blessing of Almighty God upon my gift, and with the fervent prayer that under His guidance your counsels may be directed for the highest good of present and future generations in our beloved country, I am, gentlemen, with great respect,

Your humble servant,
GEORGE PEABODY.
Washington, February 7th.

NEGRO TESTIMONY IN SOUTH CAROLINA.—The Charleston Mercury of January 23d says Some curiosity and speculation were naturally excited in regard to the practice of receiving negro testimony, now for the first time in force in this city, and it has been seen with great satisfaction that, so far, the new law has been attended with more than ordinary success. The colored witnesses appear to be fully impressed with the obligations placed upon them, and their evidence has been generally given with an evident desire to tell the whole truth and nothing but the truth. There was but little tendency to prolixity and discursiveness, and the testimony has, in the late criminal trials, been clear, intelligible and to the point We notice also that Judge Dawkins is assigning the senior members of the Charleston bar to the defense of the colored prisoners who were without counsel, and they have, in many instances, discharged the duties imposed upon them with the same zeal, fidelity and conscientiousness which have so long made the bar of Charleston deservedly eminent for legal ability and personal integrity

THE CZAR AT CHURCH.—A letter from Nijni, Russia, describing the annual fair, says:

"Returning one morning from the fair to the town I saw crowds of peasants flocking into the cathedral from every direction I asked what was the cause 'Oh,' said my informant, 'the Czar has come, and you can trace the Czar anywhere by the hosts of peasants who follow him' I went along in the peasant stream till we came to the cathedral I went in with the crowd, and in a few minutes after the Czar came in, he stood during the service. The Russian church, in common with the ancient churches, recognizes no distinction of rank in the place of worship, I saw several peasants near the Czar, the beggar and the prince there stand on an equality before God In the Russian churches there are no evangelical dress boxes, and few exhibitions of Sunday millinery The only seat I ever saw in a Russian church was one at Moscow, for the Patriarch, but it has been unoccupied for a century and a half, ever since Peter the Great abolished the office."

Four old people of St. Paul, Minnesota, whose united ages were about three hundred years, danced a quadrille—with one foot each in the grave

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO APRIL 1.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, March 30—Speaker Colfax occupied the Chair again to-day The illness of his stepfather it is thought has passed the crisis

It is believed that all the bills which have passed the House have become laws

The Senate refused to confirm the promotion of Colonel James B Fry as Brigadier General

NEW YORK, March 30—The Union American Fenian organizations seem impracticable.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The report of the Congressional printer was referred to the Committee on Printing to investigate during recess

A message was received from the President which stated that in giving his approval of the joint resolution carrying into effect the act for the more efficient government of the rebel States he did so because it limited the expenditures to half a million of dollars, and not because he had modified his objections to the original act It was ordered printed After the transaction of some minor business the Speaker declared the House adjourned until the first Wednesday in July

NEW YORK, March 31—The bill authorizing the new cable between America and Europe, via Bermuda and the Azores, was signed by the President, also the bill to pay the contractors of the Comanche

The Times' special says the clerks in some of the Departments are allowed to visit Connecticut to vote Great interest is felt here as well as elsewhere in the elections.

The Russian Treaty—Washington News

NEW YORK, March 31—The Herald says the Russian treaty was fully discussed in cabinet council on Friday, and that evening the Russian Ambassador was received at the State Department, the negotiation having been brought to a satisfactory conclusion on Saturday last. The treaty must be ratified by the Senate, and both Houses of Congress must concur in making an appropriation for the payment of the purchase money before the treaty can become an accomplished fact.

CHICAGO, March 31—The Republican's Washington special says that when the treaty with Russia was received in the Senate in Executive session yesterday, it created a general smile, and in some cases ridicule Had the vote been taken, nearly all the Senators would have voted against it It goes over until the extra session to-morrow There does not seem to be the slightest prospect that it will be ratified by the Senate The consideration of it will lead to a spirited debate. Senators are unable to learn wherein the value of the treaty consists or who desires to pay money for such a purpose It is said an investigation committee will be appointed to ascertain the origin of the scheme and what is behind. Nobody believes that the whole seven million dollars will go into Russian coffers

The special military committee reported Gen. Rousseau's nomination without recommendation. Senators Morton, Cameron and others are pressing Gen Rousseau, on the ground that the soldiers demand his confirmation Gen Grant and Secretary Stanton recommend Gen. Sickles. Prominent Democratic leaders are opposed to him; accordingly Gen. Rousseau's name was sent into the Senate It is supposed that he will be confirmed

Speaker Colfax will probably postpone his visit to Colorado till after the July session

Democrats are much displeased with the President for signing the bill to suspend the compensation for slaves

Should the President make acceptable nominations the Senate will adjourn its session in a week It may stay in session for ten days.

Should Connecticut go Democratic, Mr Foote will be nominated Minister to Austria.

The President has signed the deficiency bill containing provision for publication of the laws in northern newspapers formerly reported

CHICAGO, April 1—A dispatch to the Journal says the Committee on Foreign Affairs have decided to report back the Russian treaty An effort will be made to postpone its consideration until December.

The coming statement will show the reduction of the public debt to be $72,000,000 About $120,000,000 of gold is in the Treasury McCulloch has decided not to retire the 4,000,000 greenbacks monthly authorized by the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The present temper of the Senate is against the Russian treaty

The special committee to examine ordnance will commence its investigation immediately.

WASHINGTON, March 1—The present temper of the Senate is against the ratification of the Russian treaty.

Henry R Landren has been confirmed as director of the Mint at Philadelphia

N. G. Taylor, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, entered upon his duties to-day.

The Press on the Treaty.

NEW YORK, April 1—The treaty with Russia is discussed at length by the press. The Times commends Seward The main importance of the acquisition grows out of its bearing upon the future trade with China and Japan Reluctant as the Senate may be to accept so great a favor from the President and Secretary, its sense of public duty will constrain a ratification.

The Tribune says it is an effort of administration to cover its failures at home. The territory is not wanted It requires that more bonds shall be sold in Europe at 70 cts on the dollar, and half a million dollars additional to our annual taxes The Tribune invokes the Senate to withhold a ratification, and hopes the House will refuse the appropriations

The World says Russia sold to the United States a well sucked orange, and the fur trade is declining. Looking to the future, however, it regards the purchase as wise

The Herald says the price is high, looking only at the products of the territory Politically considered the purchase is valuable. It is doubtful if the Senate will ratify the treaty.

The Times' special dispatch says a memorial from the Washington Territory Legislature, dated January, 1866, asking the President to obtain the right for purchase to Eastern Russia, was the foundation of the present treaty

WEDNESDAY MORNING, APRIL 3, 1867.

Probable Railroad Routes.

Before any railroads are constructed to connect Oregon with California or with the trans-continental lines, the easiest and most feasible routes will of course be sought for, and those which require the smallest expenditure of money will be adopted. It is difficult to decide by what route we could most easily obtain railroad connection with California and the East; but that route, wherever it may lie, is the one which will be chosen whenever actual business shall begin. After a road shall have been constructed through the length of this valley, there are then two routes whereby communication may be obtained with the principal line. The first of these routes is the one commonly talked of, by way of Eugene City, Jacksonville, Yreka, Shasta, etc., to Sacramento. The second route we design to speak of hereafter.

The Government survey maps show that Portland is seventy miles west of Sacramento City. Eugene City is about eighteen miles west of Portland, so that the southern terminus of the valley road will be fully eighty-eight miles west of Sacramento. After leaving Eugene, there is still further departure westward, which continues as far as Winchester, in Douglas county. Sacramento is something more than one hundred miles east of this point. This route is therefore not direct, though it is by no means so circuitous as some others of equal length. The short deflections which the uneven surface of the country will render necessary, will be very numerous, and these frequent doublings will add much more to the length of the road than would any regular departure from the general course of the route.

The first considerable obstacle to be encountered on this route is the Calapoola range of mountains. A grade of forty to seventy-five feet per mile would be required here for a distance of fifteen or twenty miles. A few miles further on the Oakland hills set in. A railroad through these hills would be considerably longer than the present wagon roads, and the grading and curvatures heavy for a distance of not less than twenty-five miles. Competent judges express the opinion that many of the up and down grades of that locality would amount to one hundred feet per mile. Hence it will be seen that this part of the road would require a very large outlay of money. It is not a single elevated ridge which must here be be encountered, and which can be overpassed with merely an ascending and descending grade, but a succession of rugged hills requiring numerous ascents and descents, and necessitating steep grades and sharp and difficult curves. After these hills are cleared the route is comparatively easy to the Umpqua Canyon, though in this distance of forty miles there is a range of hills ten miles in extent, which are by no means a trifling obstacle.

For a distance of thirty-five miles commencing at Umpqua Canyon the route would be a laborious one for the construction of a railroad. The Grave creek and Cow creek hills lie here, and for the greater part of the distance just indicated heavy grading and difficult curvatures would be necessary. These obstacles surmounted, the next fifty or fifty-five miles would be much easier, but the road would be extremely crooked, running south, then east, then doubling back to the south and southeast, and so on to the foot of the Siskiyou mountains. Here is probably the greatest barrier in the whole route. It has been demonstrated with reasonable certainty that a railroad over the summit of these mountains would be entirely impracticable, as the curves and grades would be too great to admit of its being operated. The only plan, therefore, would to tunnel the main ridge. A tunnel to answer this purpose would have to be at least two and a half miles in length. The mountain is composed mainly of solid trap, a very hard kind of rock, and it is estimated by competent judges that to commence at both ends of the tunnel, using in its construction every appliance known to modern art, five to eight years would be required to push the work through. It is manifest that the cost at this place would be very great. We have seen no estimate of the expense of the work, and perhaps none could be accurately or even approximately made. From the northern foot of this range to Red Bluff the distance is not less than one hundred and sixty miles. There are two other ranges of mountains with an intervening hilly country between these points. Perhaps no part of the remainder of the route presents so great difficulties as the Siskiyou mountains; but there are places between this range of mountains and the Sacramento valley which will require a large expenditure of money. From the point where the route enters this valley the work is easy, and there are no further obstacles worthy of special mention.

On this route, the extent of the mountainous and hilly country is about two hundred and fifty miles, or nearly half the whole distance from Portland to Sacramento. After leaving the head of the Willamette valley there would be but few bridges, the principal of which would be required on the North and South Umpqua, Rogue and Klamath rivers.

The above is a short view of the route usually talked of for a railroad from this State to California. Our object has not been to exaggerate its [illegible], but to inquire what difficulties do actually exist. Another route has been proposed, commencing at the head of this valley, passing through the Cascade mountains, continuing in a southeast direction and intersecting the Central Pacific Railroad on the Humboldt river. Of this we shall speak more fully at another time.

The self-appointed censor, whoever he may be, of the religious opinions of the people of this community, continues his attacks through the Herald on the religious meetings now in progress here. We decline to be drawn into a controversy which amounts practically to a question whether people shall be allowed to follow the dictates of their own consciences in these matters, or be compelled to submit their views of religious duty to the notions of any one who may appoint himself a judge over the conscience of a whole community. We have this to say, however,—that the Herald's accusations against these meetings, and its charges that confessions and revelations are made in them which are "offensive to public decency," are without a shadow of foundation. The writer seems to think that because some little incident of the meetings is not quite what stiff formalists can approve, the exercises are offensive to the public sense and ought not be tolerated. It is no matter whether these things suit our views or not; if we do not approve of them we are not compelled to attend, and people who do approve of them have a right to their own opinions. As there is no compulsion in the matter of making acknowledgements of past errors, this censor need not be afraid that he will be dragged up before the public and forced to reveal the follies and vices of his past life. If his protest is a protest against this he might have spared himself the trouble of making it.

H. P. Isaacs, of Walla Walla, proposes that if the citizens of that place will co-operate with him he will remove the machinery from his flouring mill and convert it into a woolen factory. The Statesman thinks that $10,000 will suffice to make the change and put the factory in operation.

The Walla Walla Statesman says that the Democratic primary meeting at that place last week was "attended by scenes of disorder that can only be characterized as disgraceful." The Statesman intimates that "roughs" were introduced to carry the primary.

FROM IDAHO.

More Murders by Indians—Stage Attacked—Three Men Killed.

The following is from the Idaho Statesman of the 26th ult:

We are compelled to recite another attack of the Indians upon the Owyhee stage. Mr. Wm. Sanford, who lives at Fruit's Ferry, came over from there yesterday, arriving here about five o'clock, and furnishes us the following particulars: Yesterday about noon the stage was coming over from Silver with four passengers, named Pomeroy, Bennett, Ullman, and another whose name we did not learn, and Younger, the driver. When just at the foot of the hill, very near the spot where McCoy was killed last summer, they were fired upon by a band of Indians. Younger was shot at the first volley, having his arm broken and a wound in the right side. He fell into the boot, when Pomeroy, who was on the seat with him, took the reins and drove the team down the canyon as fast as possible, the Indians pursuing and firing. Near the foot of the canyon, almost on the level road, one of the lead horses fell. The other broke loose from the team and got away. Ullman and another started for the ferry on foot, while Pomeroy and Bennett tried to get the team in condition to drive again; but the Indians coming near enough to fire at them again, Bennett mounted one of the remaining horses and Pomeroy the other, the latter taking Younger on behind him, and started for the ferry. Before going far Younger complained that he could not ride, and asked to be left in the sage brush. Pomeroy encouraged him to hold on, but it soon became apparent that he could not ride, and riding a few yards out on one side of the road, Younger was left. Pomeroy soon overtook one of the footmen, who, being lame, he took on the horse behind him. They soon after passed Ullman, who said that he could run no longer. The Indians were then firing at them, still in pursuit. On arriving at the ferry, seven men were in a few moments mounted and started back to rescue those left behind. Mr. Sanford very soon after started for Boise City, but up to the time he left there was nothing more learned from Ullman or Younger. What their fate was is therefore uncertain. Pomeroy said he counted eight Indians at once, but the firing at the first attack seemed to indicate a much greater number. Two or three more men could have been sent out from the ferry, but there were no horses to mount them. The place of the attack is about five miles from the ferry, and they drove the stage about a mile before the team fell. Haley, Greathouse & Co. sent over a buggy last night after the wounded men. The stage will leave again this morning for Silver.

The following additional particulars are from the Statesman "Extra," of the same date as the above. For our copy of this "Extra" we are indebted to Jos. Pinkham, of Umatilla:

Since the Statesman was issued this morning, the full particulars of the Indian massacre of yesterday have come to hand, and they are of the most heart-rending character. So far as could be learned there were but eight Indians in all, but they were well armed with both guns and arrows. Younger and Ullman were both killed, also a Frenchman named Buchee, of Silver City. Our account of the terrible affair, this morning, was entirely wrong in one respect, that we got the names of Bennett and Pomeroy transposed; and there were other errors. The three survivors, Bennett, Reichenberg and Pomeroy, all arrived this morning, from whom we get the facts as follows: The attack was made about 11 o'clock in the forenoon yesterday, as the stage was coming down the canyon near where the attack was made on the teamsters last fall. Wm. Younger, the driver, was probably mortally wounded at the first fire, his right shoulder and arm being terribly shattered, with a great wound in his right side. He dropped the reins, when Pomeroy, who was on the seat beside him, took them up and drove on as fast as possible. Before going far, however, it became apparent that Younger could not remain on the seat, and they stopped the team, when Bennett and Reichberger got out and took Younger into the stage. This halt gave the Indians time to overtake the stage again, so that they fired another volley at the stage before it started. As they started Bennett asked to drive, as he was accustomed to drive a stage team, but Pomeroy insisted that he was a good driver and drove on, making very good time, at least sufficient to gain upon the Indians. The next misfortune that happened was the breaking of the hold-back strap of the near wheeler, which soon threw the off horse under the tongue. Ullman and Pomeroy loosed the leaders, when one of them got away from Pomeroy and ran down toward the ferry. Pomeroy said to Ullman, "Let me take this horse and go and catch the other one." About this moment the Indians came in sight again. Pomeroy mounted the horse that Ullman had and rode off at full speed, the latter following on foot. Bennett and Reichenberger had been meanwhile getting the wheel-horses untangled with a view to drive on if possible. Six or seven minutes had been consumed since they stopped, but before they could get hitched up again the Indians came within easy range and commenced firing. There being no prospect of escaping with the stage Reichenberg started off on foot, while Bennett mounted the horse that was loose, to leave, supposing that Younger was dead. But Younger seeing Bennett mount, begged him not to leave him. Bennett then helped Younger out of the stage on the horse behind him, the Indians firing all the while. That they were not both killed seems a miracle. Bennett says he felt the wind of several balls or slugs as they passed his face, and Younger received one ball in the right leg as he was getting on the horse. Younger soon became so faint that he could not hold on the horse, and begged to be left in the brush. Bennett kept him on, however, until he got a little out of sight of the Indians, and then left him in a small ravine a few yards from the road. The Indians did not find him after that. Bennett now took Reichenberg on the horse with him and began again to make his escape. One of the Indians had by this time cut the harness off the horse that was left and came down upon them again on the right, the others following behind. Ullman had by this time secreted himself among some rocks, but seeing Bennett and Reichenberg come along, came out after them. They had no arms to make a fight, and they could not all escape on one horse. So the two rode off toward the ferry and Ullman started again for his hiding place; but it is presumed that the mounted Indian discovered him as he was found dead near the place. Bennett and Reichenberg made good their escape, arriving at the ferry some time after Pomeroy. A party of seven soon started back to rescue the men left behind, but the Indians had done their worst and fled. Ullman was found near the rocks where he had hid, shot through the heart. He had three shots in his body and a wound on his head, as if made with a rock. Younger had died on the spot where he was left, and had seven shots in his body and limbs. On going back to the stage they found it rifled, the mail-bags cut open and the letters scattered about. The Frenchman, Buchee, was also found near the stage, murdered and scalped. The supposition is that he came up behind the stage before the Indians had left, and as they could see him for some distance back on the hill, would wait in ambush for him to come up. His baggage was found in the stage. The parties brought the bodies of Younger and Ullman down to the ferry, leaving that of the Frenchman till they could go back with a team and bring in the stage. A team was hitched up at the ferry and the bodies brought to this city, arriving about three o'clock this morning. The surviving passengers came at the same time.

Jas. Ullman has been for several years a resident of Idaho City, but lately, we believe, of Silver.

Wm. Younger has long been a driver on the different stage routes in this Territory, and was a universal favorite. His former home was in Walla Walla. The bodies were laid out in the district court room this morning, where they were visited by the most of the citizens during the day, and buried at five o'clock this afternoon.

It is understood that Buchee will be buried at Fruit's Ferry.

After hearing all accounts it is evident that Bennett is entitled to much credit for presence of mind and courage in making repeated attempts to save the lives of all the party. Ullman might have been saved on the horse with Pomeroy, had the latter not run off in such haste. Bennett thinks that with one breech-loading gun he could have killed nearly every one of the Indians, and perhaps not lost a man besides the driver, who received his fatal wound at the first attack. But they had no arms and were therefore powerless. There were probably not more than eight Indians in the band, though there might have been more.

LATER FROM ROCKY BAR—TERRIFIC FIGHT AT A BALL—ONE MAN KILLED AND TWO OTHERS WOUNDED.

Chandler, the expressman, arrived this afternoon with ten days later news from Rocky Bar. A bloody fight occurred there on the 15th inst., at which a notorious rough named Harry Seymour was killed, and another rough named McQueen and Sheriff McClaren wounded—the latter in the leg. It appears that McQueen and Seymour raised a muss at a dance that was taking place at a boarding house of Mr. Vroom. Mr. Derrick and Mr. McClaren tried to quiet them, whereupon Seymour commenced firing at them. Another man named Gettle fired twice at McQueen and then shot Seymour, who was about to kill Derrick. A private note from there says, "the whole community sympathizes with Gettle, who is now undergoing an examination for killing Seymour." The examination had been going on three days when Chandler left, and it would likely continue two days more. It is now said that Seymour was a sort of a bully and was the reputed "chief" among the roughs of the Bar.

A GOOD POINT.—Miles O'Reilly compares the action of the Supreme Court to the captious fault finding of the owners of a vessel which had been saved at the expense of the masts and rigging; they aver that the captain had no such power given him in his letter of sailing instructions, and that the ship was saved contrary to orders.

An effort is to be made to catch the drift-wood that comes down the Clearwater river during high water. Piers and booms for this purpose are constructed about three miles above Lewiston. The people of that place want the wood for fuel.

The cession of Russian America and adjacent islands to the United States creates quite an excitement amongst the public, but KOHN & FISHEL, No. 111 Front street, are creating a greater excitement amongst the high priced houses in this city by letting the public know that they are selling good Davis & Jones white shirts for $2 50, Shaker flannel undershirts and drawers $1 50, the best Merino undershirts and drawers $1 to $1 50, fine, French cassimere pants, $5, splendid cassimere business coats $8 to $12, good suits from $8 to $25, magnificent black dress suits $30, and all other goods at comparatively low prices.

A NEW TOWN SITE.

At the urgent request of many friends, the undersigned have located a Town Site, one mile below St. Helens, at a place known as Caples' Woodyard, on a donation land claim, where the title to lots can be made good without litigation—where the beauty of location is unsurpassed on the Columbia River for such purposes. We propose to give every alternate lot to any persons who will build a house or other buildings upon the same. And to any company on the coast wishing to locate or improve at this point, we will give a liberal donation of land.

THIS COMPANY HAVING GREATLY enlarged their Refining Works, and introduced many other important improvements, are pleased to announce that they feel warranted in again reducing materially their terms of doing business.

THE TARIFF OF CHARGES

Which they now submit to the public—considered with reference to the cost of material and labor—is lower than in any other part of the world, and secures to the mining interest of this coast an important increase in both the minting and commercial value of bullion.

Their charges hereafter will be as follows:

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED GOLD BARS.

One-eighth of one per cent. (heretofore a quarter) for all amounts over $1,000, and two dollars for any smaller sum. Returns made in twenty-four hours.

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED SILVER BARS.

Two dollars for the gold contained, up to $1,600, and one-eighth of one per cent. for all amounts over that sum, and one per cent. on the silver contained. Returns made in twenty-four hours.

FOR REFINING DEPOSITS MADE FOR COIN OR FINE BARS.

On bullion under 200 parts gold, 2 cents per ounce.
On bullion from 200½@600 parts gold, 4 cents per ounce.
On bullion from 600½@750 parts gold, 6 cents per ounce.
On bullion from 750½@949½ parts gold, 8 cents per ounce.

Above 950 the only charge will be for coinage. But there will be no charge for refining less than two dollars.

FOR COINING GOLD.

This charge will be the same as at the Mint—a half of one per cent.—and which is paid by us to that institution. But there will be no charge in future for making fine gold or silver bars from bullion refined by us.

RETURNS IN COIN IN FORTY-EIGHT HOURS.

Silver contained in deposits for coin will be accounted for at the same rate customary at the Mint.

Gold bars of other Assayers, in good standing, will be cashed by us at the highest market rates.

Dust and bullion can be forwarded to us from any part of the country, and returns made through Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express.

CHARGES AT U. S. BRANCH MINT.

For the convenience of those not familiar with the terms of the Mint, we subjoin the tariff of charges now in force at that institution:

For refining bullion under 200 parts gold, 3 cents per ounce.
For refining bullion from 300½@600 parts gold, 5 cents per ounce.
For refining bullion from 600½@750 parts gold, 7 cents per ounce.
For refining bullion from 750½@830 parts gold, 11 cents per ounce.
For refining bullion from 830½@949½ parts gold, 14 cents per ounce.

The charge for coinage is half of one per cent., and the charge for making fine silver bars, the same.

Comparing the net value of deposits for coinage, with the proceeds of unparted gold bars sold in the market—assuming that the bars have cost ½ of one per cent.—they must be sold at the following par rates to equal the return which would have been made had they been deposited for coinage:

850 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents.
845 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents.
865 par to equal San Francisco A. & R. Works return, at refining charge of 8 cents. mh1d2p3m

THE PROPRIETOR OF THE

Pacific Museum of Anatomy and Science, San Francisco,

Have determined, regardless of expense, to issue FREE (for the benefit of suffering humanity) four of their most interesting and instructive Lectures on Marriage and its disqualifications: Nervous Debility, Premature Decline of Manhood, Indigestion, Weakness or Depression, Loss of Energy and Vital Power, the Great Social Evil, and those maladies which result from Youthful Follies, Excesses of Maturity, or Ignorance of Physiology and Nature's Laws. These invaluable Lectures have been the means of enlightening and saving thousands and will be forwarded FREE on receiving twenty-five cents in postage stamps, by addressing "Secretary Pacific Museum of Anatomy and Science, at the Eureka Theatre, Montgomery street, San Francisco."

Letters to be sent through Wells, Fargo & Co.

A VALUABLE INVENTION.

THE UNDERSIGNED CALLS THE ATTENTION of smokers to the celebrated

PATENT DOUBLE-TUBE PIPES

Which he is now importing, and which are recommended to all smokers. Its peculiar merit consists in the use of TWO TUBES, the one for the smoke alone and the other for the passage of the saliva and the nicotine to the cup at the bottom, whence it is discharged. The smoke being thus kept clear of contact with the saliva, is always delicious and pure in its odor, and the collected matter which renders all other pipes offensive being entirely removed, the pipe will always continue sweet and agreeable. It gives to the smoke the pure exhalation of the tobacco, free from its noxious nicotine. It possesses merits never before obtained in pipes.

A leading eastern journal says of this pipe: "Its merits are incontestably proved by the fact that it is permanently superceding all others in use."

Another great advantage in this pipe is that the smoker can easily take it to pieces, if the draught becomes obstructed you can withdraw the stem and re-open the upper tube of the bowl without emptying it of tobacco.

FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU

Is a certain cure for diseases of the BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, DROPSY, ORGANIC WEAKNESS, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, GENERAL DEBILITY, and all diseases of the URINARY ORGANS,
whether existing in MALE OR FEMALE,
from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a diuretic. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the HEALTH AND HAPPINESS, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE OF THE AGE!

Pain Killer taken internally, should be adulterated with milk or water, and sweetened with sugar if desired, or made into a syrup with molasses. For a cough, a few drops on sugar eaten will be more effective than anything else. For sore throat, gargle the throat with a mixture of Pain Killer and water, and relief is immediate and the cure positive.

It should not be forgotten that the Pain-Killer is equally as good to take internally as to use externally. Each bottle is wrapped with full directions for its use. Dyspepsia can be and is cured every day by the use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer. This is the most wonderful and valuable medicine ever known for this disease. Its action upon the system is entirely different from any other preparation known. The patient, while taking this medicine, may eat anything the appetite craves. Sold by all medicine dealers. mh20dawlm

THE GLORY OF MAN IS STRENGTH.—Therefore the nervous and debilitated should immediately use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

Bronchitis or Chronic Sore Throat.—It is attended with irritation of the bronchial tubes, which convey the air we breathe into the lungs. The irritation produces sore throat, hoarseness, coughing, and sometimes spitting of matter streaked with blood If it is neglected it will extend down to the lungs, and settles into confirmed consumption. ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will be found a most valuable remedy for curing this disease, and prevent its running into the consumption. For sale by dealers in family medicine generally. ta20

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU and IMPROVED ROSE WASH cures secret and delicate disorders in all their stages, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience and no exposure. It is pleasant in taste and odor, immediate in its action, and free from all injurious properties.

Female complaints should be cured, as they surely can be, by a few doses of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA.

SHATTERED CONSTITUTIONS RESTORED by HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

Whisper it softly
When nobody's near,
Let not those accents
Fall harsh on the ear
She is a blossom
Too tender and frail
For the keen blast—
The pitiless gale

Whisper it gently,
'Twill cost thee no pain,
Gentle words rarely
Are spoken in vain,
Threats and reproaches
The stubborn may move—
Noble the conquest
Aided by love

Whisper it kindly,
'Twill pay thee to know
Penitent tear drops
Down her cheeks flow
Has she from virtue
Wandered astray?
Guide her feet gently,
Rough is the way,

She has no parent,
None is her kin
Lead from her error,
Keep her from sin,
Does she lean on thee?
Cherish the trust;

An Extraordinary Discovery.

A LINEAL DESCENDANT OF THE "OLD MAN OF THE MOUNTAIN" FOUND IN INDIA—HIS RIGHTS SUSTAINED BY A BRITISH COURT—A STRANGE HISTORY.

[Special Correspondence of the World]

BOMBAY, Dec. 29, 1866.

A case whose history precedes the Crusades, but whose subject matter is in the present, has just been decided by Sir Joseph Arnould, Judge of our Supreme Court. Undoubtedly, a more singular and more historically interesting litigation has never been determined by a legal tribunal. The plaintiffs were some four hundred families of Bombay; the defendant, Aga Kahn, formerly a leader of the Persian rebels, but since his submission a man of sporting habits, and remarkably fond of the turf. The task of reducing the exact point to a controversy to one sentence, as can be done in most suits, if it was achieved by the attorneys, was not by the learned Judge, and is quite beyond the power of your correspondent. To begin at the beginning would be to travel rearward on the plane of the centuries that witnessed the Norman conquest, whose records, handed down to the present, confirm by the truth of history and the voice of law, that Aga Khan, the quondam rebel, and now loyal horse-racer, to the temporal and spiritual pontificate of a dynasty older than the Crusades.

THE HISTORY OF THE GREAT CASE.

As before said, so involved are the facts that led to this suit, and so far-reaching are the grounds on which they are based, that it is puzzling where to begin. But if we trace the date and the circumstances of the coming of Aga Kahn among us, the litigation will evolve itself in easy order. As far back as 1838, Aga Kahn was residing in the Persian Province of Kerman, as the acknowledged Imam of Ismailees. Therefore he and his subjects, in accordance with a custom as old as the Druses of Lebanon, externally conformed their faith to the practices of those in authority over them. But the Shah was retiring in disorder from Herat. Aga Kahn resolved to make the discomfiture of the monarch his own opportunity. He siezed the Province of Kerman, openly proclaimed himself as the ruler of the realm and of the Khujahs who inhabit it. After two years of unsuccessful struggle he was obliged to succumb and fled to Scinde. Here were three thousand families who so cordially received him, and believed in his claims of lineal descent from Ali, that he was able to levy an annual tax of one-tenth of the entire income of each of the followers This tax was, to say the least, anomalous, at the same time when the people were subject to British revenue. In the Afghan war, Aga Kahn raised a troop of light horse, and served with distinction under General Nott. For gallantry and efficiency he was pensioned by the British government, and in 1845 came to Bombay. Here he has ever since resided. He has ecclesiastically ruled the Khojans with great rigor. The city has always been well watched by the agents of the Persian Shah, who reported minutely the movements of Aga, so as to anticipate any sinister attempts of the Kahn to possess again the supremacy, in Kerman. It is well understood, too, that the British authority here have, from time to time, given him gentle but decisive intimation that while in the territory and under, the protection of the Crown, he must not either attempt or plan any design hostile to the cordial relations of the Empire with the Shah. Of course, as Imam, he administered upon the entire property of the sect, which is also an "order," and is very wealthy. About six years ago, he esteemed the occasion ripe for the promulgation of his full power, or at least its test. So he commanded his people throughout the whole of India, no longer to profess secrecy, but openly to avow him their head, and their adherence as religionists to the Ismailee faith. The decree was signed the 20th of October. All but 400 families in Bombay obeyed. They rebelled, either dissatisfied at his rule or, as is more likely, not wishing to incur the repugnance with which the Ismailee sect is still regarded as the descendants of the order of Assassins and the original founder of free love—they rebelled and appealed to the Supreme Court to have their affairs and their property administered by a lay committee. This appeal put Aga Kahn on his defense to prove his legitimacy of pontificate authority over the Khojahs. Hence this suit.

HOW THE DEFENDANT WAS SUSTAINED.

The steps which led our honored Justice Arnould (than whom a purer jurist and an abler man cannot be found on any of the colonial benches of her Majesty's courts) to decree in favor of Aga Khan, are set forth at large in the decision of the courts, sufficiently voluminous to form an ordinary quarto, and evincing deep research and conscientious analysis. Summarized as briefly as can be intelligibly done: it appears that Aga Khan is the lineal successor in authority of the Chief of Massiat, the original "Old Man of the Mountain," who in the eleventh century conspired and almost compassed the assassination of Coeur de Lion. Tracing this progression, it must bore—w ared that in 1090, 24 years subsequent to the Norman conquest, Hassan bin Saba, a Persian Shreek, settled at Alamut, a crag of the Elburs Mountains, now known as the "Vulture's Nest." At Cairo, Saba had adopted the faith of the Ismailee, which is a belief in Mahomet so far as that prophet himself is concerned, but which under the Fatimete Caliphs, inculcated a supreme obedience to the command of their Imams or Pontiffs, who descend hereditarily through Ismail, the seventh descendant of the author of the Koran. They assume the "Order of Assassins," from the fact that the founder insisted upon such absolutism of authority as to declare assassination, if ordered by himself, an imperative duty, and a high privilege on the part of his subjects to execute. Not only did the Ismailees hold their lives but all their goods and their entire service and destiny at the disposal of the Ismail. Immortality of bliss after death, and instant security of it by beatification in life, was the reward of a murder perpetrated by command of the Ismail. The large prevalence of this horrid doctrine, and its outrage in practice, became so intolerable that Egypt in 1256 regarded it with the bitterest hostility, and in 1258 Holagon, grandson of Jenghis Khan, the great Tartar conqueror, laid waste the City of Alamut, which Hassan bin Saba had formed.

THE ASSASSINS CAST DOWN BUT NOT DESTROYED.

Trampled out, beaten down, proscribed, persecuted upon sight to death, the adherents of this strange and murderous doctrine, with a tenacity of which only uninformed human nature is capable under the fires of persecution, resolved not to abandon their cherished faith, not to assimilate themselves to the milder branches of Mohammedanism around them; but, gathering courage in danger and persistence in adversity, concluded, without forsaking the tenets of their faith, externally to disavow its objectionable characteristics, as did the Jews theirs in Spain, but at heart still to nurse the ancient dogma, and sub rosa still to practice the olden horrors. As Persia became more and more Sheeah, and permeated by negative theological ideas, the persecutions against the Assassins, now that they had apparently adopted gentler habits, abated and they seem to have been considered less as a dangerous than as a peculiar people, with whom intermarriage and intermingling, if not anomalous, were not least rare

THE INFLUENCE EXTENDS TO INDIA.

Just three hundred and sixty years after the original establishment of the order at Alamut—that is in 1400—the fourteenth Ismail sent Pir Surdorin as an Ismailee missionary into Scinde, and that ancient, who appears to have been very similar in temperament to Peter the Hermit, just at the time when Columbus was contemplating a revolution of the geographical ideas of the globe in his former mind—just at this date that pioneer preacher of the Order of Assassins was extending the principles of his sincerely and tenaciously held belief among the ignorant and susceptible Hindoo minds. A book he published is to this day the Bible of the descendants of the credulous thousands that flocked to his faith. The tribe that most largely, almost universally, received his testimony were the Khojahs, Aga Khan's own people, and those from other tribes that embrace the views of Surdorin, joined to the Khojahs, who to this day number, in spite of wars, outrages, Aga's expulsion from Kerman and other disasters, 1,400 Assassin families in Bombay, 2,800 in Scinde, 5,000 in Cutch, 400 in Zanzibar, and smaller communities scattered through the whole of Western India.

Without further recapitulating the points of the lucid decision of Justice Arnould it can but be said that the unvariation and constant regularity of this historical succession I have traced, are found to be conclusive y true

Aga Kahn is proved to be the lineal descendant of Hassan bin Saba through the incorporation of the society at Alamut with Khojahs, and as the Pontiff of the people is to be respected and obeyed in all religious commands he may put upon them, so long as they claim to belong to the tribe, his mandate that the Khojahs openly avow their long held, secretly preserved Ismailee faith has judicially been declared to be within the scope of his prerogative, and the 400 represented plaintiffs in this suit have been well worsted in a tortuous litigation of six years.

Aga is declared formally to be "Hereditary Grand Master of the Order of Assassins." The Massiat who attempted the assassination of Cour de Leon is the original "Old Man of the Mountain." The Order emanated directly from him, who at the time spread, by his act, the name of "Order of Assassins" through all the Crusading armies. The principles that led to the absolute obedience exacted are due to the example of Hassan bin Saba at Alamunt, or at least must have been sanctioned from him; the cardinal idea being that the Pontificate, with its divine dispensing power, is indivisible and can be exercised only by the hereditary representative of all through Ismail

This society, it is said, will be again consolidated and handed over to the son of Aga Khan, the father now being old and feeble. The Ismailee missionaries to this day make numerous converts, among the Indian tribes, and the obligations of the Order are implicitly obeyed by, and growing popular to the Hindoo.

Of course, the power of British occupation restrains the Order from any out and out assassinations, from the patent fact that the Aga is himself under English protection, i. e., control The possible extent, however, to which a successful rebellion in this far away province could carry these horrid doctrines in intellects so servile and savage as the Hindoo, cannot be over estimated, nor are less singular the venerableness of the Order, its unbroken line of Pontificates, its resurrection of the ancient forms in this day of alleged progress, and the fact that a British court is bound to decide on the legitimacy of the descendant of him who conspired the murder of their favorite and most chivalrous sovereign. By this decree of Justice Arnould $10,000 a year are guaranteed to Aga Khan, as the one entitled to the revenues of the "Order of Assassins."

Curious Figuring.

The Paris correspondent of the S. F. Times has the following in his last letter:

"In granting these privileges the Emperor, to compensate himself, suppresses the address—and this the Liberal party does not like, as, in fact, under the new arrangement, the right of questioning the Government Ministers only rests in the hands of the majority. But the Liberal party contents itself in the hope which may be as illusory as it is agreeable, that in the great elections of 1868 the minority may become the majority. So they wait and watch for 1869.

PREMONITIONS.

Indeed, if there be any faith to be placed in horoscopes and wonderful coincidences, the year 1869 promises to be a fatal one for the Emperor. In connection with this idea, one of the most remarkable documents is going the rounds of the anti-Bonapartists, and is carefully shown and talked about, and it is said that copies of it have been sent to the Emperor himself, who, being like his uncle, a fatalist, may well, perhaps, regard it as the mene tekel of his history. A transcript of the paper itself, whose contents certainly exhibit, if nothing more, a series of the most wonderful, accomplished and possible coincidences in the world, will best explain its character. Louis Philippe, born in the year 1773, his Queen in 1791; they were married in 1809, ascended the throne in 1830, and his reign terminated in 1848. Now taking the first three dates, and arranging them in perpendicular columns, and adding them to the date of his ascension to the throne, they each amount to the fatal date of 1848, the year of his downfall—thus:

	Birth of King,	Of Queen.	Marriage.
	3	1	9
Ascent of throne..	1830	1830	1830
Downfall...	1848	1848	1848

Now this, of itself, is very remarkable that these three dates should all thus culminate in the year of the revolution and the flight of the King; but when it is seen that the same rule applies in each particular to the present occupants of the throne, pointing to 1869 as their year of winding up, it certainly becomes even more wonderful, That it does, this will be seen. The Emperor Napoleon was born in the year 1808, the Empress Eugenie in 1826. They were married in 1853, and the Empire was founded in 1852 Now let us make the same arrangement with those figures as with the others, and mark the result

	Birth of Emperor	Of Empress.	Marriage
	8	6	3
Foundation of Empire,	1852	1852	1852
	1869	1869	1869

Of the authenticity of the dates upon which these calculations are based there is no doubt, as can be ascertained by referring to any biography. But in the case of Louis Phillippe, the coincidence goes further. The ex King died in 1854, and these figures, added in the same manner as the others, thus:

1830
1848

give the one fatal date as the result. Does it not look as though fate had indeed marked out and set apart that year as the culminating one of Louis Philippe's greatness? And if it be so, may not the prospective horoscope of Napoleon be as correct, and his star about to fall? It is certainly a little remarkable that the fated year pointed at in his case—the one in which the general elections takes place throughout France, and when a most strenuous effort will be made by the opposition party to obtain power, and, by the more radical portion of it, to incite a revolution, if there seems any plausibility of success."

GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER!

IN EVERY PROGRESSIVE SCIENCE PERIODS ARrive when a new direction is imparted to its course. These are produced from discovery of new facts shedding a light which changes the whole aspect of the science The present is an epoch of this kind and this Great Remedy, now offered to the public, in connection with the theory on which it is based, is destined to effect an entire revolution in the treatment of the diseases of

SCROFULA AND KING'S EVIL

by eradicating the disease entirely from the blood The FOUNTAIN OF LIFE is composed entirely of vegetable extracts, it contains no Mercury or other mineral substance

The Proprietor and Discoverer of this Sovereign Remedy CHALLENGES THE WORLD to furnish anything from the days of Esculapius down to the present time in the arcana of Medical Science, which can vie with or excel the intrinsic properties of this Great Blood Purifier. Its value has been tested with the happiest effect in the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians in the world No matter what form the dreadful disease of SCROFULA and KING'S EVIL may have assumed, it can in no way be more easily and certainly arrested in its progress than by HENLEY'S GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER Thousands have been swept into their graves, who had they made a timely use of the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE, might now be enjoying the blessings of life and health It requires an article of real merit and intrinsic value to sustain itself During the stern ordeal of public experiment the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE has stood the test trial and not been found wanting

Dr HENLEY guarantees to CURE any case of SCROFULA or KING'S EVIL in the world, and eradicate the disease entirely from the system, or no charge in be —provided they will secure him his pay when they are cured

THOMAS LIVINGSTON,
Deer Creek Precinct, Douglas county, Oregon.

SALEM, July 21, 1866.

This is to certify that I was blind for over four months and almost blind for one year and a half; I tried several eye doctors but received no benefit, I had almost given my case up as hopeless when fortunately I heard of Dr. G. W. Brown, now of Salem. I was induced to try him; he performed a surgical operation on my eyes, and gave me treatment I soon began to recover, and in a short time I was perfectly cured. I do this in justice to one who rescued me from a fate worse than death, and also for the benefit of those who are laboring under similar afflictions that they may know where they can get relief. It is now about eight months since my eyes were cured and they still remain good I can see to read the finest print without difficulty, and my eyes can bear the strongest light without pain

ALEXANDER MITCHELL.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cured and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

Consultations FREE.

Prevention Better than Cure.

AT THE

Bennett House,

SALEM, OREGON.

L. JAY S. TURNEY,

HAVING LEASED THE ABOVE NAMED HOTEL, is prepared to accommodate the traveling public, and ONE HUNDRED REGULAR BOARDERS, in as good style as any House on the Coast. He has determined to make the "Bennett" as good as the best and better than any public house in Salem. He will soon complete some important improvements, which will add greatly to its appearance and comfort, and intends to merit and hopes to receive his share of patronage

He has secured the services of "Charley" (known to be the best cook in Salem, and one of the best in the whole country) and other competent persons to manage the culinary department, and is resolved to set as good a table as can be found anywhere—not in clap-trap, pomp and show, flummery and fine furniture, but in an abundant supply of the very best the market affords.

His Bar-room will be kept warmed and lighted, and well supplied with newspapers, periodicals and other suitable reading matter, and kept in a manner which will make it an agreeable resort.

In short, he intends making an effort to please ALL who stop at the BENNETT HOUSE. And he most respectfully requests his friends every where to give the old and well known stand at least one more trial before concluding they can do as well elsewhere, and promises if they are not well treated, and properly cared for, and at reasonable figures, it will not be the fault of the public's most obedient and most humble servant,

WATER WHEEL!

THESE WHEELS, unequaled and unrivaled in the United States or the world, have been fully tested on this coast, more than forty being in use at this date, driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c, &c.

On account of the extraordinary demand, our stock of wheels is considerably reduced, and we are entirely out of several sizes, therefore parties contemplating using our wheel, to be certain of securing them in time, should give their order at least three months before they expect to get them, that we may be able to make them by the time needed.

We cheerfully refer to all using our wheels, and are assured that all will affirm that our wheels accomplish all and even more than we claim for them Address
